

Chief Executive Officer - Interra Credit Union

Interra Credit Union is looking for the next Chief Executive Officer that will further the organization's 80 year successful history as a financial cooperative. Their success is based on their intimate knowledge and keen understanding of the needs and culture of the community they serve. This CEO will carry the torch and generate a future vision with strength and courage that boldly represents and benefits the membership and community as a whole. This is an opportunity to tap into and fulfill on the organization's potential, exceeding historic milestones while leading and promoting a balanced life.

This credit union, headquartered in Goshen and well established in Elkhart County, recently expanded its community charter to include the five adjacent northern Indiana counties. With a strong financial and capital foundation, the Board seeks strategic growth within its diverse potential membership as the members' most trusted and valued financial resource. Interra CU offers a wide array of products and services including a long standing reputation as a commercial and agricultural lender.

Key required strengths include strategy development, disciplined financial acumen, and an exceptional leadership record. The CEO will have critical and significant business and operating decision making responsibility, and will work closely with the board to drive strategy development and market diversification initiatives.

The Board requires a minimum of five to ten years of senior leadership experience within a community bank or credit union and a strong understanding of the culture in northern Indiana. Bachelor's and MBA qualifications preferred.
