

Advancing Leadership Success

Corporate ALCO Manager
Asset Liability Management
SunTrust Bank - Atlanta, GA

Our client, SunTrust Bank, is seeking a highly experienced and top tier Director of Asset Liability Management to take the corporate ALCO process to the next level. This ALCO Manager role is exciting because it includes a high degree of decision making, complex problem solving skills, and the opportunity to grow and develop others. This role reports directly to the Corporate Treasurer and is responsible for interest rate risk measurement, monitoring, management across the enterprise, as well as developing strategies to manage related risks including loan prepayment and deposit behavior risks.

As Director of ALM, you will manage the monthly Asset Liability Management Committee (ALCO) process, provide executive level oversight for this function and manage the monthly production of ALCO-related materials and presentations. The Director of ALM leads the ALM team and is responsible for proper utilization, monitoring, and maintenance of interest rate risk management models. You will partner and collaborate with the Treasury, Market Risk, Business Information Office, Enterprise Stress Analytics, and Forecast & Planning teams, as well as key teammates within the Lines of Business. Through teamwork and interest rate risk strategy development and execution, the Director of ALM is a key driver of corporate results.

In this role you will provide executive level leadership to the enterprise-wide Asset Liability Management process while ensuring compliance with applicable regulatory and model risk management requirements and develop risk management and mitigation strategies related to on-and off-balance sheet interest rate risk in collaboration with other key stakeholders.

Important to the success of this role will be your ability to prepare and deliver presentation materials and effectively communicates complex ALCO topics to executive level management through the monthly ALCO process. Excellent project management skills are required due to the ongoing and regular nature of ALCO materials preparation and the need for their timely delivery.

Requirements

- MBA or higher related degree, and/or advanced financial certification such as the CFA designation (preferred);
- Extensive experience with QRM ALM software
- Excellent communication skills, including the ability to communicate highly complex topics, and courage to challenge the status quo
- Demonstrated ability to build trust, collaborate, and work within the team environment
- Established reputation for excellence and a proven passion to win
- Significant expertise in managing the ALM process at a top banking company or other large financial institution as well as quality experience with the capital markets and capital markets products, mortgage loan and investment portfolio analytics.
- 5+ years experience with mortgage loan and investment portfolio analytics
