

Deedee Myers has earned the status of Master Somatic Coach from The Strozzi Institute, the premier institute for embodied leadership. The leadership work Deedee does on behalf of The Advancing Leadership Institute generates greater capacity for individuals and organizations to be in sustainable leadership practices and generate extraordinary results. Deedee earned this high standard certification while carrying twins and quadruplets and leading a successful national business. "The teachings of Richard Strozzi gave me the powerful foundation of living this rich life with my family and doing the work I love," said Deedee after successfully completing the requirements of Strozzi Institute.
